Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion

St. Patrick's Church in Angels Camp needs more of our parishioners to volunteer to become Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion (EMHC). You already know the importance of Holy Communion. Our faith tells us that the Priest and EMHC are bringing forth the actual Body and Blood of Christ to the communicants. Some people feel unworthy of this ministry, and rightfully so. After all, who is worthy of this great mystery? Everyone at Mass, before receiving Holy Communion, says, "Lord I am not worthy." But Christ invites us anyway. You are also being invited and encouraged to volunteer for this ministry. You must be Confirmed and a practicing Catholic.

Please call the Parish Office (209) 736-4575 to submit your name and contact phone number. You will receive a follow-up call for scheduling your instruction and training.

Some additional information:

Bishops, Priests and Deacons are called Ordinary Ministers of Holy Communion. Ideally, we would receive Holy Communion (the Body and Blood of Christ) from them. However, Priests in parishes are not as plentiful as they once were. When the demand for more help was needed the Church permitted laypeople to distribute Communion. These laypeople are called Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion. The dictionary definition of "extraordinary" is exceptional or remarkable; in the case of Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion, it means "outside the ordinary." If there are not enough Priests and Deacons available to distribute the Body and Blood of Christ, then the "extras" are needed.

ST. PATRICK'S CATHOLIC CHURCH

The Feast of Corpus Christi Procession and Mass

Sunday, June 2, 2024

Mass 10:15 am; Procession after Mass

Join us in procession on South Main Street from St. Patrick's to Bret Harte High School.

The Feast of Corpus Christi

Pope Urban IV declared the Solemnity of Corpus Christi a universal feast in 1264. He requested that great Doctor of the Church, St. Thomas Aquinas, compose the liturgical texts for this feast day.

Aquinas is known for his Summa Theologiae and for showing the natural harmony between faith and reason. It was a timely request. It came during a time when many scholars debated Jesus' true presence in the Eucharist. Aquinas on the other hand, provided the philosophy behind his definition of transubstantiation. He wrote that God extends his action "...to the whole nature of being" and that, in the Sacrament of the Eucharist:

...the whole substance of the bread is changed into the whole substance of Christ's body, and the whole substance of the wine into the whole substance of Christ's blood. Hence this is not a formal, but a substantial conversion; nor is it a kind of natural movement: but, with a name of its own, it can be called "transubstantiation". -ST III. Q75. A4.

Pope Emeritus Benedict XVI said about Aquinas, "The beautiful hymns that the liturgy of the Church sings to celebrate the mystery of the real presence of the Body and Blood of the Lord in the Eucharist are due to his faith and theological wisdom."

These hymns include texts which Aquinas wrote for the Solemnity of Corpus Christi such as Adore te Devote, as well as the Tantum Ergo, both of which are often sung during Eucharistic Adoration and Benediction.

Eucharistic Processions

In addition to the beautiful hymns that our Church sings to celebrate the Real Presence, we also have the tradition of Eucharistic processions. Processions are an ancient tradition which have taken place from the Old to the New Testament. From the Ark of the Covenant in the Old to the procession of Jesus on Palm Sunday in the New.

The Council of Trent encouraged the tradition of processions in order to emphasize the Catholic Church's belief in the True Presence. In medieval times, whole towns and cities would participate in the procession, including nobility and military guards. As the Eucharist passed by the townspeople's homes, they would kneel outside of their homes in reverence. This custom provides us with a great opportunity to give a public witness of our Faith. It reminds us that as we walk with Jesus before us, we are also walking with Him on our earthly pilgrimage to Heaven.

Bringing Christ Enfleshed with Us Everywhere

Benedict XI said that the tradition of the Corpus Christi procession gives us the opportunity to "immerse [Christ], so to speak, in the daily routine of our lives, so that he may walk where we walk and live where we live.

 "The Eucharist is 'the source and summit of the Christian life'" CCC 1324
